

LOVAT ACQUIRES SECOND PLANT FACILITY

IN October 2009 Christopher C. Curfman, President of Caterpillar Global Mining Division visited the LOVAT facility, located in Toronto, Canada to announce the growth of LOVAT. An additional 220,000 square feet facility was acquired so that Lovat can accommodate the growing demand for tunnel boring machines.

Now part of Caterpillar Global Mining Division, benefits include continued research and development collaboration, integrated engineering departments, and six sigma implementation. In addition to these resources, LOVAT will maintain its tradition of keeping a close relationship providing first class service, catering one-to-one with our clients locally and internationally.

The new Manufacturing & Logistics Centre (MLC) is located just a few kilometers away from our main facility in Toronto, Canada. The second facility will have increased space for light manufacturing, warehousing, and additional office space.

This is an exciting and significant step for the continued growth of LOVAT, now a Caterpillar company.
